*Let oil nor steam, nor wings of dream deprive us of our own—
Our wide world for a kingdom and the saddle for a throne*

Will Ogilvie

The pattern of modern American life seems to consist largely of pressures. They are of varying intensity—business, family, social, civic, religious and the rest—and they are so numerous that we succumb only to the most pressing. In consequence our work, our play, our friends, even the people we marry, are largely selected, not of our own free will, but because of pressures we cannot resist.

Twenty years ago the mechanical gadgets with which we are now so completely surrounded were known as labor-saving devices. Wise men wrote at length as to how the working man and the housewife should employ their new found leisure. But as time went on we had even less leisure, not more. Instead we used the extra time to increase production. This made us the richest country in the world with the highest material standard of living ever known. But in other respects it made us poor—poor in the realms of art, of letters, of human relations, of health, of sane living. For such things time was too short, the pressures too great.

What has all this to do with horses? A great deal. For the back of a horse is almost the only place remaining where, of necessity, we have to give up this insane mode of existence. Once mounted we exchange the era of the atom bomb for the era which produced Homer and the Parthenon, Virgil and Pompei, Dante and Michelangelo, Shakespeare and Bach. About 20 miles an hour is as fast as we can accelerate. And since our pace must be leisurely, so also must be our thoughts and feelings.

Most of the time we live in such a way that we see only the work of man and are oblivious to the work of God. Either we shut ourselves up in cities which make the earth and sky and stars invisible, or we speed across country at a rate which masks much of its beauty and its charm. How infinitely more significant is the countryside to the horseman who rides alone through field and woodland. He hears the gentle sounds of beasts and birds and insects, the wind in the trees, the water in the brooks. He knows the smell of new mown hay, of wildflowers and woodsmoke, and of damp earth after a rain. He sees before him the mists of the dawn, the cloud fortresses of high noon, the long shadows of the evening.

It has been said, again and again, that there is nothing so good for the inside of a man as the outside of a horse. But the reasons which make it so, go deeper than exercise and the glow of good health. Far more important than the things of the body are the things of the spirit. To the horseman especially is vouchsafed the gift of contemplation, that peace which passeth all understanding.

Laurel Oil

Dear Sir:

I wonder if any of your readers have ever used LAUREL OIL on yearlings? I hear that if it is rubbed on the shins of yearlings, it is effective in about 50% of the cases in preventing bucked shins.

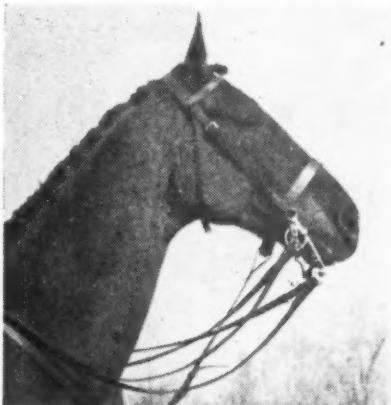

Yours faithfully,

Another One

Dear Sir:

I was much interested in your recent picture of the two Man o' War hunters in The Chronicle. Here is another wonderful son of "Big Red" that you might be interested in.

We bought for our daughter, Jill Slater, in 1941 a six year old gelding by Man o' War out of a mare called Brush Along, she by Sweep. He is a full brother to Holystone. Since then Manalong has hunted regularly for fifteen seasons in five states with eight different packs of hounds.

He has only been down once which was due to stepping into a blind ditch filled with snow.

He has been used by the field master, whipper-in and huntsman. In 1941, 1942, 1943, he won over a hundred ribbons in childrens classes including Devon and The National. My daughter, who as you know, is now joint M. F. H. of the Essex Fox Hounds in New Jersey, has hunted Manalong every New Year's Day for the last fifteen years including 1955 which was his twentieth birthday. Last season, however, he was given the privileges of an old and revered gentleman and only given half days except for January 1st. He is still in better physical condition than many horses half his age.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Miles Valentine

REVIEW OF THE WEEK

Traffic Judge Wins Woodward Stakes at Belmont; "Most Improved Horse in The Country"—Arcaro

Raleigh Burroughs

Belmont Park

"This is the most improved horse in the country," was the way Arcaro put it describing Traffic Judge after Clifford Mooers' three-year-old won the Woodward Stakes. A week earlier, the son of *Alibhai—Traffic Court, by Discovery, had the Jerome Handicap, steered by the eminent Eddie, half an hour after Nashua didn't win the Sysonby under the same auspices.

There was weighty quote from the great equestrian that afternoon, too. "If I'd had this colt (Traffic Judge) in the Sysonby, I'd have won it," is the remark attributed to Arcaro. I didn't hear this statement, myself, but got it from a fellow whose word is as good as his bond, though not as good as Arcaro's bond.

As America's answer to Sir Gordon Richards tested the merits of Nashua and Traffic Judge within a period of less than one hour, and as he felt he could have won the Sysonby on Traffic Judge (and didn't win it with Nashua) one might be led to conclude that he thinks Traffic Judge is the better of the two.

This notion occurred to the resurrected Sammy Renick (I thought he was going to stay in France) after the Woodward. "How would you compare this horse with Nashua?" the television star asked.

Eddie was too smart to go for that; he wouldn't say. He just laughed and clammed up.

So here we are, with the season about over, all fouled up again—and just when we had the three-year-olds neatly catalogued.

The memory of man is short, and a horse that comes fast at the end of the season often makes people forget the pure gold quality of a Derby winner.

His two recent victories, plus grand closing dashes staged behind Nashua in the Arlington Classic and Swaps in the American Derby, have placed Traffic Judge in the glare of the spotlight at a time when people are beginning to talk about champions.

His Woodward win was good enough for any horse. His time, 1:48½ for the mile and one-eighth on a sloppy track, was only two-fifths of a second slower than the record. He outgamed an older horse in a stirring dash through the last eighth, and he was toting eleven pounds more than the older horse—15 on the scale.

Paper Tiger was the one that provided the pressure right up to the end. Traffic Judge beat him a head, Dedicata was four lengths farther back and a head before Social Outcast, Blue Choir, which took the Foreign Bred and United Nations events at Atlantic, finished sixth in this one after being close to the pace-setting Dedicata for three-quarters of a mile. The $40,000 Mr. Mooers received for his colt's Woodward effort makes $226,164 he has harvested from the same source in 1955. Traffic Judge has won 7, been second in 4 and third in 1 of his 15 races. Stakes wins have been in the Withers, Ohio Derby and Ventnor Turf Handicap, besides the Jerome and Woodward.

Mr. Mooers bred the chestnut colt. Woody Stephens trains him. The Woodward, named for the late

The United Hospitals Committee responsible for this meeting was fortunate in securing in London this cup which was first awarded by the Prince of Wales.

William Woodward, Sr., head of Bel Air Stud, was contested for on October 1.

Arcaro also rode the winner of the Matron Stakes, co-featured with the Woodward on October 1, and, if he works for ten per cent, earned $8,862 for the two gallops.

Claiborne Farm's Doubledogdare was the favorite and the winner. She beat the longshot, Glamour, one length. Beaufillion was third and First Asking, fourth.

The six-furlong race down the Widener course was clocked in 1:09½, which seems fast until you check and find that the mark straight run is 1:07¾.

Doubledogdare won the filly division of the National Stakes and the Colleen earlier in the season. She shows 5 wins and two seconds in 8 starts. With $48,620 from the Matron, her earnings soared past the $100,000 mark—the exact total is $103,650.

By Double Jay—Flaming Top, by Omaha, the filly's name comes from pressure tactics used by a small boy. This particular lad when endeavoring to influence another youngster to do something he shouldn't do, says, "I dare you." If this doesn't work he moves for more emphasis to, "I double dare you." If still unsuccessful, he goes for broke with, "I double dog dare you." This generally gets both kids into trouble, but is a dirty trick to play on an innocent filly.

Claiborne (A. B. Hancock, Jr.) bred Doubledogdare. Moody Jolley trains her.

Oil Painting won four races in a row, including the Champlain and Distaff Handicaps during the summer, but then she seemed to "tail off" and missed in the Diana and Vagrancy. So the patrons let her go at better than 4 to 1 in the Step Lightly on September 26, and this time she turned the trick.

made the choice at 5 to 4 and ran a very good race. Close to the pace all the way, she tired slightly and dropped back to finish fourth, beaten less than two lengths for the main end of the purse. Black Main finished second and, Talora third.

Gandharva, a three-year-old, was top-weighted with 124 pounds. Oil Painting carried 122. She is four, and thus was getting six pounds by the scale.

Oil Painting is by Papa Redbird and was bred by J. A. Goodwin. She races for Mrs. Goodwin. Her earnings for 1955 were pushed to $62,225 with the $17,950 from the Step Lightly. She shows 5 wins, 2 seconds and 3 thirds in 11 starts.

Atlantic City

What the program described as the "ninth running" of the Absecon Island Handicap was held at Atlantic on October 1. It was the second running for two-year-olds on the turf. What may be even more important, it was the most valuable. The race has been run for three-year-olds, and for older horses at varying distances.

Mrs. J. H. R. Thouron, owner of Happy New Year, took home a check for $22,250. Lesser awards, diminishing as in the order listed, were handed the proprietors of Combustion II, Espea and Nahodah.

Happy New Year (Hill Prince—Merry Xmas, by Roman), was a maiden with but $970 to his name going into the race and a wealthy stakes winner coming out. If Mrs. Thouron or Trainer J. E. Ryan risked a deuce, the return for that minimum wager was $84.

Jackie Westrope rode.

Happy New Year was bred by Mrs. E. duPont Weir, and that was Mrs. Thouron before she married Mr. Thouron.

Hawthorne

Hawthorne hung up $50,000 for the Bidwill Memorial Handicap but only six horses came out for it and two of them ran for the same stable. Hasty House Farm's entry, Sea O Erin and Mister Black, was made the favorite at even money and came through for those who love the solid play.

Sea O Erin was the winner, with Smoke Screen second, Hasseyampa third and Sir Tribal fourth.

The victory was worth $36,000 and gives Sea O Erin lifetime earnings of $161,567.

Harry Trotsek trains the son of *Shannon II-Chantress, by Hyperion. Kenny Church had the mount in the Bidwill.

"SCRATCHED"

The C. W. Carsons' of Caledonia, New York had planned quite an entry in the Genesee Valley Breeders Assn. Show, Sept. An accident the night before the show cancelled their plans — six of their horses in some manner got out of their pasture and ran out into the road. Two trucks immediately slowed down, parked by the side of the road and began signalling the other motorists to slow down or stop until the truck drivers could get aid in getting the horses back. Out of the night, paying no regard to the frantic signals of the two men came a car with all the lethal speed that machinery can deliver, the car plowed right into the horses killing two, severely injuring two and scratched up two more. The car was wrecked but the driver was uninjured. — M. K.

Songai Wins Rouge Dragon 'Cap; Watters & Murphy Account for Three of Five Races Run

Spectator

Coming down to the wire a length and three quarters in front, Mrs. C. P. Dencla's Songai was a mild surprise in the $10,000 added two mile Rouge Dragon Hurdle Handicap. Llangollen Farm's The Proff, high weight of the field under 153 lbs., came off second best, as he did two weeks previously when Third Copy took his measure in the Bushwick at Aqueduct. Another length and a half away, Sanford Stud Farm's Oneida finished a neck in front of Hyvania. Basilia and Landscaping finished next in that order, while Third Copy ran pounds off his Bushwick effort to come in seventh and last in the field.

Hyvania was the first to show the way after the break, but it was soon apparent that no one wanted to set the pace, and for almost a turn of the course, the lead alternated between Hyvania, his stablemate, Landscaping, and then Oneida, but each rider had a snug hold on his mount, and a scarce half a dozen lengths separated the field. The winning pattern of the race was still indistinguishable until midway down the far side, when Landscaping gave way suddenly after making two bad jumps, while Oneida took over the front end. Meanwhile, Jimmie Murphy on the eventual winner had gradually improved his position to reach about even terms with Oneida nearing the far turn. At this point, five horses were still in contention as Landscaping steadily dropped out of it, and Third Copy appeared unwilling to extend himself. Around the turn, Songai stretched his lead to several lengths, in front of Oneida, while Albert Foot on The Proff, started scrubbing without seeming to shorten the distance separating him from the leader. Hyvania was fourth at this point and not out of it.

Once straightened out for the stretch, Songai continued in front by a little more than two lengths, but Murphy went to the whip, for behind him, Foot on The Proff, Delaunay on Oneida and Harr on Hyvania made a strong effort to run him down. For one brief moment crossing the Widener Chute, it appeared as if these three would do just that, but Songai responded gamely to stand off this challenge and make it two for two during the week. Under a featherly 130 lbs., Songai in the Rouge Dragon and had broken his maiden in a race only seventy two hours previously.

The time for the two miles was 3:49 4/5, seven seconds off the course mark, and a reflection of the very moderate pace for the first turn of the field. Songai has had a rather checkered career. Now a six-year-old, he is by *Flushing 2nd out of the good mare Accra. Bred by Mrs. Marion duPont Scott, Songai was purchased as a youngster by Rigan McKinney for his mother the late Mrs. Corliss Sullivan. Sold as a two-year-old in the dispersal sale at Pimlico, Songai was raced at the half-milers with little success, but then a year ago, he won an allowance race at Monmouth Park on the flat under the charge of W. D. Thomas. After a few efforts this summer again at Monmouth Park, but over hurdles, Sidney Watters, Jr., his present conditioner, took the horse to Saratoga, but he did not get into the winners circle until earlier in the week in a mile and a half race over hurdles.

In the enclosure following the running of the Rouge Dragon, Mrs. C. P. Dencla received the handsome trophy from Mrs. L. C. Ledyard, while trainer Sidney Watters looked on with rider, Jimmy Murphy.

Watters and Murphy had an outstanding week, each accounting for three of the five races run. As mentioned previously Songai won on Monday in easy fashion, taking the measure of King Gavin, Lovely Argon and Lucky Trine in that order. The latter made the early pace, but tired approaching the far turn, and was passed by the first three mentioned rounding the turn. An unfortunate fall marked this race when John Schiff's Bombez fell at the fifth hurdle, giving his rider, Scottie Schulhofer a bad fall and a broken collar bone at a very crucial point of the steeplechasing season.

On Tuesday, it was Watters and Murphy again, with the latter booting home Carthage for a mild upset in the two and a quarter mile Annibal 'chase, leaving in his wake, the redoubtable His Boots, the Brookmeade veteran which copped the 1953 Grand National. The Annibal was an interesting race with six well matched horses making it a contest all the way. Dooley Adams on Moot, a confirmed front runner, went to the front at the start, and the Cheff horse, ordinarily an outstanding jumper, showed less than that under a ride from Adams which was probably calculated to "save her in front." Smithwick on Uncle Joe, however, was right alongside, and for almost a turn of the field, the lead changed several times. Meanwhile, the field ran well grouped behind these two, and around the last turn it was still anybody's race. Into the stretch and up to the final jump, it had narrowed down to His Boots, Brighty, Uncle Joe, while, Jimmy Murphy, had worked his way forward on the outside of horses to take the lead, at this fence. Swerving in at this point, but in the clear, Carthage was in front of Uncle Joe, and the latter swerved in midair, all but unseating Paddy Smithwick on landing. In contrast Carthage landed well and set sail for the wire, reaching it with five lengths to spare over His Boots, while a length away Brighty had no dispute for third money. Three and a half lengths back, Uncle Joe, Palaja and Moot ran under the wire so closely aligned that it took the camera to separate them with the result in the order mentioned.

In this race, Carthage, a five-year-old, gelded son of Rufiji out of Jeopardy, ran well enough to be considered a threat in the forthcoming Gwathmey. Bred by Mrs. Watters and running in the name of her husband-trainer, Carthage was not nominated for the Brook or the Grand National, but has improved considerably in the last two months. The Annibal was his first score over the larger jumps, he previously having accounted for two races over hurdles in mid-season.

The following day, the mutual price on the winner evoked all sorts of wistful comments from the crowd, when Mrs. M. G. Walsh's Templier scored easily by five lengths and paid $107.50 in a seven horse field. The vehicle was a mile and three-quarter claiming hurdle event, with the public making Clive of India a solid choice at a little less than two to one. This seven-year-old made a good showing after absence of three years from the races, in fact, but for the winner's margin it was a tight race. Templier, one of the French-subscription horses of 1954, had gone out to make the pace, as he has on several occasions since Walsh purchased him from the Sanford Stud Farm, but in the race, he still led around the last turn, running easily, with Danny Boy 2nd, Indian Fire and Clive of India behind him doing their best. Forgetting to stop here or later, John Cotter rode the eight-year-old gelding right up to the wire, taking no chances that his mount might quit. Albert Foot on Danny Boy outfinished his opposition to garner the runner-up spot, three quarters of a length in front of Indian Fire, with the latter a little more than daylight in front of Clive of India. In April of 1954, Laddie Sanford paid $10,500 for Templier, and he appeared worth it on the strength of a good racing record in France. Turning temperamental, Templier refused to extend himself in the afternoon. Gelded in mid-year, he still remained a rogue, and was finally sent into the horses in training sale at Belmont this spring. Purchased for $600 for shipment to Porto Rico, Mickey Walsh gave the successful buyer a $200 profit, and then the trainer of the temperamental Rythminhim started teaching Templier what was expected of him in the afternoon. Apparently Templier was a good scholar for his winning race left nothing to be desired.

Final race of the week saw eight horses go postward over the two mile brush course, and by the time the field entered the far side the last time, it had developed into a two horse race between Montadent and Pine Shot. With Schulhofer on the Sidelines, Willard Thompson, the seven pound apprentice jockey was up on John Schiff's Montadent, and he did a pretty good job of keeping his mount going, and when Montadent had raced Pine Shot into defeat in the stretch, Thompson kept after the Sch-jumper just enough to score by several lengths.

Invigorator to Mereworth

Mrs. Walter M. Salmon's Mereworth Farm, Lexington, last week announced the purchase of an interest in Saxon Stable's $178,450 earner Invigorator, who will enter stud at Mereworth next spring. The stud fee for the five-year-old son of Brookfield — Sarah Loraine, by Wise Counsellor, has been set at $500 for a live foal.

Bred by Sterling S. Gano, owner of Stonewall Farm, Georgetown, Invigorator was purchased at Keeneland as a yearling for $7,000 by L. Riley Allison and M. R. "Bill" Prestridge, who later organized their racing operations under the name of Saxon Stable. Unplaced only nine times in 36 starts, the colt won the Cowdin Stakes, Babylon, Peter Pan and Brooklyn Handicaps. He was ranked well up on the various handicaps for all three of his active seasons — 121 pounds as a two-year-old on the Experimental Free Handicap, and 122 as a three-year-old and 117 as a four-year-old on The-Blood Handicaps—even though he was in training only about half of the last two seasons. A pulled muscle suffered in the Kent Stakes in June, 1953, kept him out of action the rest of that year; and an injured left forefoot sustained in the Brooklyn 'Cap in July, 1954, ended his racing career.

Edgar Zantker's Swanside Farm, Lexington, will sell a half brother, by Easy Mon, to Agrarian-U at the Keeneland Fall Yearling Sales.

Actually this colt is better than a half brother to Noorsaga; the youngster's sire, *Royal Charger, is by Nearco, while Noorsaga's sire, *Noor, is by Nearco's son *Nasrullah. Sequence, full sister to Bella Figura and half sister to Bernwood, is again in foal to *Royal Charger.

Leslie Combs sold Noorsaga, Sequence's first foal, at Keeneland as a yearling for $37,000 to S. W. Ward, Agent for Mrs. C. Ulrich Bay.

Among the mares are daughters of *Bahram, *Blenheim II, Chicstraw, Contradiction, Diavolo, Eight Thirty, Equipoise, Haltal, Jack High, Ocean Wave, Reigh Count, Seven Hearts, *Shannon II and Some Chance.

The fillies of racing age include a *Royal Gem II four-year-old, and juveniles by Ocean Wave and *Royal Gem II.

Among the yearlings are two Sir Damon colts, a son and daughter of *Royal Gem II, a *Shannon II colt and a Blue Swords filly.

The weanlings include a colt and three fillies by Petrose; a son and daughter of *Royal Gem II; colts by Amphitheatre, Apache, Charlie McAdam and Papa Redbird; and a *Shannon II filly.

Cofield Resigns

Al Cofield has resigned as Manager of the Horse Department at Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reineman's Crown Crest Farm, Lexington. Former Manager of the late Douglas M. Davis, Sr.'s High Hope Farm, Mr. Cofield has several offers of new positions under consideration.

Johnson Grass Worries Agronomists

Agronomists in the College of Agriculture at the University of Kentucky last week expressed concern over the spread of Johnson grass, a noxious perennial weed which is invading Central Kentucky, including the horse-farm area, in serious proliferation. A sorghum resembling Sudan grass, it propagates both by seed and by runners. It is most prevalent on bottomland that is occasionally flooded, and is almost impossible to eradicate in those areas. Now it is spreading to the uplands, where eradication is possible but may cost $50 to $75 per acre.

Dr. Frank J. Welch, Dean of the College of Agriculture, regards the Johnson-grass menace as so serious that he has launched an intensive campaign against it; and has enlisted the aid of the State Highway Department in fighting its spread along roadsides, one of its favorite haunts.

Sweep for Johns Joy

Daughters of Johns Joy, who stands at Mrs. John D. Hertz's Stoner Creek Stud, Paris, swept both divisions of the recent Raton Futurity at La Mesa Park, Raton, N. M. Polly's Cracker was successful in the first division, while Miss Dundee prevailed in the second. Both fillies are products of the Keeneland Fall Sales.

Polly's Cracker, out of the Reaping Reward mare Nat's Reward, was bred by C. H. Ferguson, owner of Windermere Farm, Paris; and cost W. E. Britt $1,400.

Miss Dundee, from First Fiddle's stakes-placed half sister Despondent, by Boojum, was bred by Dr. and Mrs. R. Smiser West, Nicholasville; and cost Cowan and Son $5,000.

Charlie McAdam Destroyed

The six-year-old stallion Charlie McAdam ran through a gate; broke his right shoulder; and had to be destroyed last week at Caddis F. Moriss' Hamburg Place, Lexington.

Bred and raced by John C. Clark, the son of *Heliopolis—Gumdrop, by *Pharamond II, won divisions of the 1952 Flamingo and Swift Stakes, five other races BEDLAM, a young sire with no foals of racing age, offers notable bloodlines. His sire, Balladier—a grandson of Peter Pan—and his direct male line back to Domino, boast a sire line of speedy winners. His family, a sire family, is the family of Ariel, Swing and Sway, Domino, and great mares like Twilight Tear.

Bedlam is out of a mare by Bubbling Over, sire of the dams of Hill Prince, Busher, Mr. Busher, Attention, etc.—his dam being a granddaughter of a sister to Domino, and a half-sister of the French stakes winner, Trompette.

It was the latter hurt that ended his racing career after a single start at four. Mr. Morrissey then bought a half interest in Charlie McAdam's stud career. His first foals are now weanlings.

Successive Stakes for Spendthrift Stallions

Stallions standing at Leslie Combs II's Spendthrift Farm, Lexington, sired two stakes winners on successive racing days recently.

On Saturday, Sept. 3, Clifford Mooers' Traffic Judge, by *Alibhai, prevailed in the $25,000-added Ventnor Turf Stakes at Atlantic City.

And on Monday, Labor Day, Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action, by Jet Pilot, scored an upset in the $100,000-added Washington Park Handicap.

Quick Reward's First

Mrs. Charles P. Sanborn's Hadareward, winner of the recent $15,000-added Durazna Stakes at Hawthorne, is the first stakes victor by Quick Reward, who stands at Tollie Young's Creekview Farm, Paris.

Quick Reward took the Will Rogers, Inglewood and American Legion Handicaps, and 10 other races. The son of Reaping Reward—Fast Stride, by Display, earned $144,900.

Hadareward, out of the Hadagal mare Hadahangrier, cost J. D. Marshall, Agent, $300 at the Keeneland Fall Sales, to which she had been consigned by Mrs. E. C. Miller.

Hasty Road Retired Again

Hasty House Farm's Hasty Road, earner of $541,502, has been retired again. After being unwound at Hawthorne, he will be shipped to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reineman's Crown Crest Farm, Lexington, where he will take up stud duties next spring.

The four-year-old son of Roman—Traffic Court, by Discovery, was retired late last winter after having been injured in his Widener Handicap victory. Returned to training late this summer, he ran third in an allowance race at Washington Park; and was being readied for the Washington Park

The Memorable Sysonby at Belmont Park. King Ranch's High Gun (in what was to be his last race), came from behind to win the $100,000 added 1½ miles feature by a head from Maine Chance Farm's valiant Jet Action. Belair Stud's Nashua, meeting older horses for the first time, was a soundly beaten third.

Handicap, but his other prep races failed to fill, so it was decided to return him to the farm.

Buck Run Sold

F. E. Morancy, owner of Buck Run Farm, Versailles, has sold the 500-acre place to his farm manager and one-time partner, Jess Curry.

Founded in 1848 as a saddle-horse establishment, Buck Run is one of the oldest farms in Kentucky continuously in horse production. Mr. Morancy bought it in 1934 and converted it into a Thoroughbred nursery.

While he intends to retire from the worries of farm supervision, Mr. Morancy is not withdrawing from breeding. He will board a few mares with the new Buck Run owner, and will be available as an advisor.

Taul to Lismore

Henry A. Taul, who has worked at E. K. Thomas' Timberlawn Farm, Paris, for 17 years, has been appointed Manager of A. F. Wall's Lismore Farm, Lexington.

Double for Knight's Stallions

Stallions under the management of Henry H. Knight, owner of Almahurst and Coldstream Farms, Lexington, sired two Labor Day stakes winners.

At Aqueduct, two sons of the Coldstream stallion *Heliopolis, Woodley Lane Farm's four-year-old Red Hannigan and Greentree Stable's three-year-old Gold Box, ran one-two in the $25,000-added Bay Shore Handicap.

And at Atlantic City, Cain Hoy Stable's Lalun, a daughter of the Almahurst stallion *Djedah, scored in the $20,000-added Pageant Stakes on the grass.

Busher Fantasy's Story

If a colt named Busher Fantasy wins the world's richest race — The Garden State — next month, it will be a fitting reward for the patience of Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, who is Elizabeth Arden of cosmetic fame, and owner of the Maine Chance Farm stable.

Busher Fantasy — who showed championship class recently in whipping Needles and other good juveniles in the World's Playground (and the Cowdin, in which he was disqualified for bumping) is the son of a mare once condemned to die, Blue Fantasy.

Immediately after the terrible Maine Chance Farm fire on May 2, 1946 in Chicago, Blue Fantasy was believed lost, it is recalled by Bud Wallace of the Lexington Herald. Later reports, however, revealed she was one of the few saved, if she could be called that in her condition.

Mrs. Graham lost 23 Thoroughbreds in the holocaust, 22 of them juveniles purchased at the 1945 Keeneland Sales at a total cost of $282,700.

The insurance company ordered Blue Fantasy destroyed. She was terribly burned . . . third degree burns. But the owner insisted the valuable filly be saved, if possible. In fact, Mrs. Graham even helped with her own personal efforts. Since the youngster, by Blue Larkspur, out of Risk, had sold for $46,000 at the sales the summer before, it is reasonable to assume she was insured for at least $50,000.

There was an argument between the insurance company and Mrs. Graham. In spite of the heavy insurance, the company wanted to destroy Blue Fantasy. But the Maine Chance owner prevailed, and veterinary science was able to save the filly.

The valuable animal was badly scarred, of course, and no attempt was made to race her. Instead, she was sent to Spendthrift Farm, near Lexington, Ky., to join the Maine Chance broodmares. None of her first three foals were noteworthy, but the mating to Mr. Busher seems to have produced something to reward Mrs. Graham's patience and perseverance.

Turf Notes

M. H. Dixon, Sr.'s Pine Shot, which won the Sea Legs Purse, an about 2 miles brush fixture on September 21st at Belmont Park, is the last winning member of a once proud but vanishing sire line. Pine Shot is a member of the last crop of 2 foals sired by Elmendorf's Chance Shot, gotten when that famed Fair Play sire was 26 years old. The other member of this last crop, foals of 1951, was Castries which showed at 3 last season.

Chance Shot during his career at stud got such outstanding performers as Peace Chance, winner of the Belmont and fine sire; Your Chance, Shot Put, Perida, Chance Sun and Fairy Chant.

On the same day (Sept. 21) at Belmont Park when F. A. Clark's $40,000 yearling purchase Vespucci (Discovery — Stellar Role, by Bimelech) was 2nd in the 3rd start of his racing career, an older full brother Big Break won the 8th race, a $3,500 claiming affair, easily by 3½ lengths. Vespucci is also a full brother to Find, stakes winner of over $200,000. Time will tell which brother he favors.

News of the impending importation of the successful sire My Love (Djebel—Perfume II, by Badruddin) by Messrs. Leslie Combs and John W. Hanes brings to mind the recent effort of another son of the French sire Djebel, *Djymy. This son of Djebel out of La Farandole, by Chateau Bouscaut, won a 1½ miles $1,500 claiming event at Wheeling Downs, W. Va. by a neck from Bridge o' Sighs. This Third Degree gelding was a neck to the good of My Suzy Belle, by Trace Call. She in turn was a head better than the Principal gelding Dom W.

Starecase, a good stakes performer in an earlier day, won a $2,000 claiming event of 5 furlongs duration on September 20 at Bel Air, Md. easily by 4 lengths. The 8-year-old chestnut horse by Case Ace—Moving Star, by *North Star III was racing for D. G. Neuman.

A. B. Hummer's Mr. T. S., a chestnut 2-year-old gelding by Moon King (a son of *Hunters Moon IV) out of No Luck, by Pot o' Luck, was a recent winner of a 7 furlongs allowance event at Bel Air, Md. Mr. T. S. cost Mr. Hummer $400 last year at the Maryland Fall Sales at Timonium when Rappahannock Farm put their stock on the "block".

Moon King, sire of Mr. T. S., was sold in the same sale last season and is now standing in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. — K. K.

Wells' Estate Valued at $450,000

The estate left by Howard "Babe" Wells, owner of Fayette and Fort Springs Farms, Lexington, Ky., was estimated at $450,000 when his will was probated last week in Fayette County Court. The valuation listed $200,000 in personality and $250,000 in real property.

Mr. Wells' will directed that his breeding stock and horses in training be sold; but he specifically exempted from this requirement the stallion Equifox, and the brood mares Catherine Fox (dam of Equifox) and Edith A. (dam of Riverland, Black Swan, Eagle River and King).

Dr. Miller Ships Weanlings

Dr. Frank Porter Miller, operator of Le Mar Stock Farm, Lexington, Ky., was on hand last week to supervise the shipment of 13 weanlings to his Sunny Slope Ranch, Riverside, Cal.

Foresight of Smith

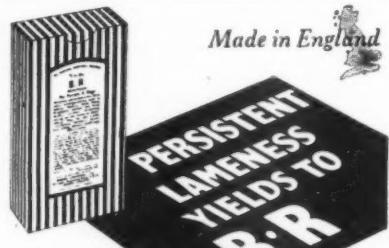

It may be that nobody else appreciates it, but the breeders of the United States should give Lou Smith a plaque for staging a card of nine races exclusively for two-year-olds at Rockingham Park on September 27th.

There are many tracks around the country which do not fall over themselves in their rush to stage races for the youngest of the Thoroughbred, and in the recorded history of racing, no such card as this ever has been staged. Smith feels that the racing of 2-year-olds should be encouraged throughout New England, and that the tracks hereabouts should encourage big stables with many juveniles to ship here, as the best hope for racing in these parts.

Of the 278 juveniles on the grounds, almost half of them are entered for Tuesday's racing, and racing secretary Owen E. Pons was so flooded with entries that the original scheduled eight race card was increased to nine. He could have run a doubleheader of fourteen races, as the horsemen rallied behind him, and his 9-race card of 2-year-olds, with races ranging from 5½ furlongs to a 1 1/16 miles should be as attractive as it is unique.

Lou Smith took one look at the crowd and the mutuel handle on Tuesday, Sept. 27, and said:

27th, and then announced that he hopes to make Rockingham Park the capital of the racing world for youthful Thoroughbred in another year. He wants to run a card of races once a week exclusively for the 2-year-olds. He wants to run a card of races once a week exclusively for the 3-year-olds.

"Our air, our climate, our water, and our clover are unsurpassed," he said, "and they will serve as a tonic for young Thoroughbreds. We have only one chance, here in New England, to attract the great stables and famous silks. We cannot match purses with the tracks in New York and New Jersey and California. We cannot offer higher stakes than are offered in other parts of the country. We can encourage the breeders and the owners, however, to ship in divisions of their stables."

"There are races for juveniles in New York where as many as thirty go to the post in a single race," he continued. "We'll give them racing room and racing opportunity here, staging one complete card of races for the two year olds, and another one for the three year olds, every week."

Irish St. Leger, 1955

Chief American interest in the Irish St. Leger 14 furlongs, is that the winner, Mrs. King's Diamond Slipper, is a full brother to the mare, Sally Slipper exported to California last fall.

On the whole, it was not a distinguished field that contested the last Irish classic, September 14, at the Curragh. The coughing epidemic had taken heavy toll, and it was with some confidence that connections and public made the Aly Khan's Cobetto (three-parts brother to Tulyar) a warm 2 to 1 favorite. In the race he was rather easily beaten by Diamond Slipper with Doug Page riding, and does not appear to be a genuine sort. Third place went to the Maharani of Gaekwar's Nile Bird, four lengths back. One feature of the race was that more than half of the runners had no pretensions to race beyond a mile, including Dark Issue, winner of the Irish 1,000 gns., which faded right out of the picture in the closing stages.

Surprisingly, the winner had run unplace in a handicap only four days before the classic, and in the later race started at odds of 100 to 8. Now, however, he was ridden differently, coming from behind in the final furlong.

It was indeed a popular success with the fans and racing fraternity generally, for Mrs. E. J. King, of Clonsilla, has been a wonderful supporter of Irish racing down through the years. She had won, each season, numerous races with her own home bred, but this was her first classic success, and the first for her son, Sir Hugh Nugent, trainer of the winner.

Diamond Slipper, is by Mrs. King's own stallion, His Slipper, and is out of Narina by Norwest from St. Stephanie by Friar Marcus. The other progeny of the dam are *Sally Slipper (Stakes winner in Ireland and a winner in America). Another Sally, and Dusky Slipper, winners in Ireland. These "His Slippers" win a remarkable number of races in the British Isles; many more, in fact, than those of several more fashionable and much higher-feel sires.

His Slipper never ran; due to an accident in his 2-year-old days. He is by Stardust (by Hyperion) out of Her Slipper by Tetratrem.

The above photo was taken just after the start of the 1955 running of the Bel Dame Handicap in which 3 horses fell as the field went into the clubhouse turn. From eye witness reports and the viewing of the films, it is believed, that Gainsboro Girl with Sidney Cole in the irons, ran up on the heels of the eventual winner Cain Hoy Stable's Lalun, stumbled and went down. Open Sesame fell over the prostrate Gainsboro Girl, throwing Jockey Tony DeSpirito into the path of Rico Reto, which almost went down with Jockey Pete Anderson. Gainsboro Girl fractured a shoulder when she fell, and when an effort to save her for breeding failed, it was necessary to destroy her. Jockeys Anderson and Cole escaped with minor injuries but DeSpirito is in Physicians Hospital with laceration of the brain and a fractured jaw. At last report he was making satisfactory progress. Clear Dawn was 2nd a half-length behind Lalun, with Countess Fleet and Rico Romance taking the other money positions.

North Cliff's Stud Fees

Word comes from the North Cliff Farm, of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Church II, Rixeyville, Va. that for the coming breeding season Maine Chance Farm's Knockdown will stand for a $1,000 stud fee. The brown son of Discovery—Bride Elect, by High Time is the sire of the 2-year-old stakes winners Right Down and Well Marked, and numerous other good performers.

Also, Paul Mellon's *John Constable, which stands at the same farm has been raised to $500. This handsome well-bred son of *Nasrullah—Painted Vale, by Gainsborough has proven very popular with breeders in this area.

Moondust to Stand at Kentmere

The big news in Virginia breeding circles is the arrival of Moondust in the near future at the Gilpin's Kentmere Farm, Boyce, Virginia. Of this stallion in his racing days England's Phil Bull states in his book "Racehorses of 1950" ". . . an honest sort who does not know how to run a bad race".

Moondust is by the Hyperion stallion Stardust out of *Mahmoud's half-sister the sprint specialist Mah Iran, by *Bahram. Mah Iran, a half-sister to Mumtaz Begum dam of *Nasrullah and grandam of *Royal Charger, is the dam of the grey Migoli one of the best representatives of 1944 generation, an outstanding winner in England and France.

Bred and raced, as his breeding would suggest, by the H. H. Aga Khan, Moondust made 1 start at 2 and finished 3rd behind *Peter Flower and Nasr-ed-Din in the Chesterfield Stakes at Newmarket.

The following season, at 3, he won the 1 mile Craven Stakes at Newmarket, the 1½ miles Diomed Stakes at Epsom, and the 1¾ miles Irish St. Leger by a short head from the American-bred Brown Rover, but was disqualified and placed last, for bumping. He was also 2nd in the Newmarket version of the St. Leger to the French-bred Charleville, to whom he conceded 14 pounds; the Jersey Stakes to Star King; and the 1½ miles Chester Vase to Swallow Tail. Moondust was also 4th behind *Djeddah, *Tennyson II and Faux Tirage in the Eclipse Stakes at Sandown and 4th in the Irish Two Thousand Guineas.

As a 4-year-old Moondust won the 1¼ miles Heathcote Stakes carrying 129 pounds, conceding chunks of weight to the beaten field and was 2nd in the Bessborough Stakes, beaten a neck while giving away 23 pounds to the winner.

After his racing career Moondust was sold to Australia and with his first crop racing there this year is represented by two winners. One of these is the stakes winner Bader, winner of the First Kindergarten 'Cap. The other winner is the lightly raced Senalda, winner of the Second Challa 'Cap.

Moondust is expected at Kentmere sometime in October and will stand at the farm along with the other imports *Beau Gem and *Orestes IV.

— NEW YORK — Amphitheatre to New York

Amphitheatre which formerly stood at Lou Doherty's Stallion Station Lexington, Kentucky, has been presented by his owners Greentree Stud to the Jockey Club breeding bureau. The son of *Sir Gallahad III—Arena, by St. James will stand at Lookover Stallion Station, Avon, New York for the 1956 season.

Amphitheatre a fleet stakes winner in his own day, is the sire of numerous stakes winners and high class performers among them Star Bout, Tiger Skin, Reborn, and Androcles. Up through last year 80 percent of his foals were winners which stacks up well against any man's stallion. Then too in 1953, he was 3rd among the leading sires in sales averages for his yearlings when they brought an average of $8,333.

New York Thoroughbred breeders may benefit tremendously through this move by Greentree.

HUNTING

Beagle Division At Bryn Mawr Larger Than Ever Basset Hounds Have Enthusiastic Followers

The Beagle division of the Bryn Mawr Hound Show was larger than ever. Actually, twice the number of hounds were entered as compared with 1954. This year's judge was Mr. Clinton Callahan of Huntingdon, Long Island. His duties in the face of such a large entry were carried out with dispatch. It was evident that among the points of emphasis were bone, heads and general condition. Many hounds seemed to carry too much flesh. This was not to the liking of the judge.

The classes for 13" dog hounds turned into a Liseter marathon with Treweryn and Buckram dividing the seconds and the thirds. A good unentered 13" dog—Liseter Laddie '55 by Liseter Merry Lad '47—Baldwin's Gossip won his class handily. Liseter Reveler '53 by Liseter Merry Lad '47—their Rakish and Liseter Merry Messanger '50 by Liseter Flyer '49—Snappy Girl, won the entered dog class and the stallion classes respectively. Merry Lad with two of his get won the class for stallions and two of get while Merry Messanger was adjudged champion dog. The couple of dog hounds was won by Liseter Reveler '53 and Merry Messanger '50.

The tables turned somewhat in the 15" division. Buckram Bellman by Ch. Chessman of Walnut Hall—Buckram Bargain '53, an unentered hound of outstanding bone and substance won both the unentered dog class and became the Champion 15" dog. In the entered dog class Liseter again took the silk with first and second place going to Liseter Famous '53 by Liseter Fair Play '52—their Joyful and Liseter Fair Play '52 by Liseter Flyer—their Rakish. The Old Chatham Foot Beagles were awarded third place with Don Valley Citation '49 by Kay's General Mack—Don Valley Chattebox. It was wonderful to see the Old Chatham present.

A new winner came to the fore in the class for couples of 15" dogs any age. Sandanona won their first class of the day with their Lasher by Liseter Merry Lad '48—Vernon Somerset Mavis '52 and Vernon Somerset Mudlark '52 by Vernon Somerset Market '43—their Brassy. Second went to Old Chatham and third to Little Prospect.

In the afternoon the bitch classes were held. The Champion 13" bitch was Buckram Beauty by Chessman of Walnut Hall—Buckram Bargain '52 who had also won the unentered bitches. Reserve went to Liseter Passion '52 by Liseter Fair Play '52—their Loyalty '51. Treweryn won the Brood Bitch 13" class with Vernon Somerset—Dora '52 by Vernon Somerset Melvin '50—Dummer Dairymaid '50. Dora also won the class for 13" brood bitches with two of her get (Treweryn Dealer by Treweryn Bender '46 and Treweryn Driver '54 by Treweryn Bugler '51).

Liseter placed first and second in the class for couples of bitches any age 13 inches. First were Pensive and Passion both by Liseter Fair-Play '50—their Loyalty '51. Second went to a couple made up of Liseter Fairy '53 by Liseter Fair-Play—their Joyful and Ladybird by Fair Play—Loyalty. Third prize went to Sandanona. This completed the classes for 13" Bitches.

In the classes for 15" Bitches the Nantucket Beagles became prominent. Mrs. "Bunny" Sharp is master of this pack. Their Barmaid by Treweryn Bugler '51—Nantucket Hoodwink '53 was the best unentered bitch. Second was awarded to Liseter Darkness by Meadow Lark Ruffage—Liseter Queen. Third place to Nantucket Buxom, litter sister to Barmaid.

In the class for entered bitches 15" Liseter returned the winner with Merry Maid II, by Merry Lad '47—their Queen. Old Chatham received second with Sandanona Minuet '54 by Vernon Somerset Mowbray—Sandanona Mystery. It was a pleasure to see the Little Elk of which Carl Robinson is master, come into the ribbons for third place, with Little Elk Sheba '54 by Ellson Worthy—their Scarlet.

The next class was for brood bitches and was won by Nantucket Hoodwink '53 by Nantucket Ruffian '46—their Hesperus '46. This was an outstanding win because the class contained a former Peterborough winner. Second was Sandanona Melody '51 by Wolver Baker '47—Vernon Somerset Mystery. The champion bitch 15" was handily won by Nantucket Hoodwink and a popular win it was. Reserve was given to Liseter Merry Maid II.

The class for brood bitches with two of her get was won by Hoodwink with Buxom and Barmaid. The next class of real interest was for two couples of Beagles any age, 15". A popular win was made by Sandanona with a very evenly matched lot, and second went to Nantucket with a young two couple all by Treweryn Bugler '51—Nantucket Hoodwink '53.

Capt. Littauer Conducts Clinic For Instructors At Jr. Equitation School

N. S. G. W. S. Clinic at Junior Equitation School — Full Cry Farm.

On the 28, 29, 30 and 31 of August a "Clinic" for riding instructors and others interested in developing better technique in schooling their horses, was held at Junior Equitation School, Full Cry Farm, Vienna, Virginia. Captain Vladimir Littauer instructed throughout the four all day sessions.

Last year, Captain Littauer conducted a Clinic for the pupils of Junior Equitation School; this year the program was expanded to include some twenty-four persons from outside the school, and was held under the auspices of the N. S. G. W. S. This organization, which sets up standards and holds rating centers for riding instructors throughout the country, recommended that as many riding teachers as possible be drawn in. Accordingly, invitations were sent to some dozen individuals in the area who teach riding, most of whom were able to come, either to ride or observe. In addition, some fifteen junior riders, capable of working on a fairly advanced level, were invited, and turned out in full force.

The first two days, Junior Equitation School pupils rode and the school's outside guests observed; this gave the outside riders an opportunity to become familiar with the schooling methods and approach to teaching which should be followed. At last year's clinic, these classes covered the following subjects: Analysis of position of riders; analysis of movement of horses; stabilization of green horses through the use of in and out; elementary and intermediate jumping; riding the turn on jump courses; techniques for schooling the hunter in the field; simple schooling movements and the program ride. This year classes were begun where they had stopped last year; the first class Saturday morning was devoted to the turn on the haunches and the next period, logically, was spent on two tracks. The counter gallop occupied the first afternoon period; canter departures on the straightaway the last. The following day, all movements learned the day before were reviewed and then a part period spent in work on halting and backing from a canter. The rest of the day was devoted to program rides, with the pupils alternately acting as "judges" and scoring the rides. The amount that this group was able to accomplish throughout the two days of work was really quite staggering; horses whom we had considered too "green" to tackle such movements as the turn on the haunches and two tracks performed most creditably.

The following two days, with the outside riders in the saddle, were no less interesting. Since some of this group had had a different background of riding, a somewhat different program was arranged. Classes in position, in stabilization of horses at gaits and over low fences, cavaletti, riding turns in a jump course and sharp turns at a gallop were included in the last two days, as well as the turn on the haunches. In making the turns on the jump course the practical value of the turn on the haunches was apparent to everyone, as the horse and riders who had mastered this lesson well had no difficulty in making the sharp turn at speed and galloping true and straight to their fences. It was observed, moreover, in instances where an awkward turn with popping shoulder was made, that the ensuing run out had actually begun at the turn itself.

Throughout the four days, the importance of maintaining forward balance, with the horse straight from poll to croup, moving freely with flat energetic strides, was stressed, this, of course, in contrast to dressage movements, in which one develops central balance and collection. All the movements taught were for the purpose of developing the agility and general physical fitness of the hunter and jumper.

Those riding on Saturday and Sunday included the following: Gretchen Schiltz, Sara Scheleen, Christine Sieminski, Mary Roberts, Peggy Mayo and Sara Willis from Alexandria; Ridgely Rider of Falls Church; Barbara Castell of Burke; Jill Ridgely of Annandale; Kathy Kusner, Tom Corcoran, Rebecca Ashley, Molly Stevens, Judy Corcoran, Nancy Hahn, Beverly Bancroft and Lynn Erskine all of Arlington, Virginia.

The Monday and Tuesday riders included: Mrs. H. Russell, Haymarket; Pat Chapman, Annandale; Mrs. I. Presnikoff, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. J. H. Symington and her daughter Diedra, Leesburg; Sharon Stone and Margaret Schrier, Pegasus Stables; Teddy and Frances Kay, Bethesda, Md.; John Simpson, Burke; Mrs. R. J. Batterton, Merrifield; Deborah Owen, Madeira School; Franklin Wing 3rd and Robert Wing, Falls Church; Kathleen Noland, Warrenton; Beverly Carr, Mary Love Dodd, Elliott McElhinney, Jean Forshee, Alexandria; Marcia McCordle, McLean; and Margo Hasbrouck, Washington.

Among the many interested observers were the following: Fen Kolloc, Pegasus Stables, Chevy Chase, Md.; Anna Hedrick, Waterford, Va.; Mrs. Henry Weaver, Aldie, Va.; Sally Brets, Riding instructor at Furnace Hills Girl Scout Camp of Lancaster, Pa.; Gail Geib, Lancaster, Pa.; Mrs. Lee Richardson Jones, Riding instructor of Garrison Forrest, Reisterstown, Md.; Mildred Gaines and Madge Barclay, joint Directors of Riding at Madeira School, Greenway, Va.; Harriet Rogers, Director of Riding at Sweet Briar College, Lynchburg, Va.; Dell Hatch of Burke, Va.; Col. and Mrs. F. W. Wing of Falls Church, Va., and Col. Lowell Riley of Leesburg, Va.

Young Entry Horse Shows

Rice Farms

The jumper championship of the Rice Farms Junior show was a very deserved victory for Dan Roche's Mr. Brookville. Young Dan had brought the horse along himself after he had become quite "sour" with several good horsemen. He has begun to do well with Mr. Brookville in regular open as well as junior jumper events, but this was his best show to date, winning every class he was in. It is expected that he will continue to do well since height doesn't seem to bother him too greatly.

Reserve to Dan was a young man who had a near perfect day. Michael Plumb rode Beauregard to the runner-up spot. In addition to that he won the hunter tricolor with his mare Tedspin. He also acquired his third medal and the horsemanship crown.

Reserve in the horsemanship division was a young lady who was also looking for her third medal, Miss Sara Ann Cavanagh.

Young Jack Morgan gained the reserve hunter tricolor with the former open jumper What-a-Pity.

Gaywood

Mrs. George Miner's annual Gymkhana and Children's Horse Show for her pupils was hampered in the morning by rain, but it was finally able to be run off in the afternoon. This year not as many children were able to attend since some of the roads in the area were still unopen due to damage caused by Hurricane Diane.

In the older division, competition was quite keen between two cousins, Anne Kaufman and Sara Belcher. The little children from five to ten years old appeared to be a group of youngsters well on their ways to becoming good riders, and all showed wonderful sportsmanship. As usual, the show turned out to be a great way to finish the summer's activities at the school.

Saucon

Saucon Valley Horse Show's sixth annual show nodded to Hopewell, ridden by Judy Fretz for championship during a tough day when horsemanship counted for the points. Reserve was won by Foxcroft, ridden by Robyn Flickinger.

Strictly a junior show this year, approximately six hundred people watched the seventeen-class spectacle in which Hopewell and O'Shaughnessy — a young high-jumping newcomer, ridden by Sallie McNamara, jumped off ties for first place.

POLO AND PONY CLUBS

The first day of the National Pony Society's show at Roehampton, England, included a match between two New Forest Pony Club teams. As THE FIELD pointed out; "Pony Clubs can do much for the future of polo by providing instruction during the summer holidays".

We must remember that it is far easier for the young to devote the necessary time to practice and therefore their chances of rapidly becoming high-goal players are greatly increased.

In line with this, Paddock Polo is being encouraged by the managing committee of the Pony Club in England. This game is designed as an introduction to Polo proper and appeals to beginners, owners of a single pony and trainers of polo ponies. The number of players on teams is governed by the size of the ground, and the ground itself does not require the same care and attention as a polo ground since the ball is soft (hollow rubber) and travels more slowly, riding over most obstructions.

Sometimes teams are composed of six or eight players which alternate chukkas; otherwise there is a ten minute rest between chukkas for the ponies.

FAIRFIELD PONY CLUB

On Monday, August 22nd, the Fairfield County Hounds were hosts to 20 Pony Club Members, mostly non-hunting children. The object was to show these youngsters what the future might hold for them, so no jumping was required except for the Hunt Staff.

Various types of horses and ponies turned up and all the young riders seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves. Hounds ran well and gave good cry, in short bursts, on three different foxes. Mrs. Barbara B. Taylor led the field and besides the staff, four other adults turned out.

Blind Brook Scores 13-9 Victory Over All Stars

Bob Gallagher

Philadelphia edged out Wilmington 9-8 on Wednesday night September 14th. in the first game of a twin-bill, while Blind Brook of New York topped the All Stars 13-9 in the night-cap. The games were played in the Brandywine Arena near Kennett Square, Pa.

Bob Ackerman, riding at No. 3 for Blind Brook, opened the night's scoring with a strong off side fore shot. In short order Ackerman added another using the same type shot. The All Stars having made a few near goals up to this point, finally stepped into the scoring circle when Albie Stewart, with a nicely executed series of off side fore shots, cut the deficit. Then Blind Brook's Art Von Gontard broke from the pack at mid-field and with a powerful straight off side drive found the mark. There was enough steam on the ball to make a follow up unnecessary. Norm Taylor countered with one for the All Stars and, just as the bell sounded, added another with an off side fore shot to deadlock the match at 3-3.

Taylor, wearing a football helmet with a nose protector, resembled a blocking back as he latched onto the ball and broke the tie with a near side back shot early in the second chukker. For the next two minutes each team tightened its defense, thwarting all goal attempts. Through the efforts of a pony the game was tied again with the goal being credited to Blind Brook. At this point the visitors went on a scoring spree and maced three before the period ended. Ackerman started the volley by breaking the tie. Then George Haas, displaying one of the finest pieces of individual work in the game, dropped the ball in the goal area after a series of off side fore shots. An off side fore shot from the mallet of Ackerman was the final tally in the spree. This gave the visitors a tidy 7-4 half time lead.

Riding into the final period with a 10-8 deficit the All Stars could only break through the firm defense set up by the visiting trio on one occasion, Taylor being credited with the goal. However, during the same seven and one half minutes Blind Brook added three goals to its side of the scoreboard. Haas made the first score, then Taylor maced the home team's lone score. Von Gontard drove in the New Yorker's second goal, and finally Haas came through again to add the final point of the game with a hard off side fore shot from the half way point. Although Blind Brook pulled away in the closing minutes it was a well played, hard fought battle from the first "toss in" until the final bell.

Third place Philadelphia and fourth place Wilmington, well matched and mounted, battled furiously for four chukkers with Phila. coming out on the top side of a 9-8 score.

Phil. was forced into some hard riding to overcome a first period 4-1 deficit. "Duke" Stewart was Wilmington's big scoring cog in the first stanza. Through the expert team work of James and Yetter, Stewart found the mark three times. James also scored one for Wilmington. Phila's lone tally was tapped in by Lyle Phillips after a foul attempt.

Yetter widened the gap for Wilmington by tapping the ball in on a pass from James. Then Philadelphia came to life with a stonewall of defense, excellent team work, and a three goal contribution from the mallet of Lyle Phillips. This effort cut Wilmington's lead at half time to a slim 5-4.

Ted James opened the scoring in the third chukker for Wilmington. However, Mike Sassone quickly countered for Phila. with a difficult off side back shot from an angle. Then Phila's E. W. King tapped one in to tie the game at 6-6. Ed Yetter rode through to account for the final goal in this chukker and give Wilmington a 7-6 lead.

Phillips' three goals in the final period was the determining factor in Phila's win. He took the ball from the pack in the toss in to make a score and deadlock the game. Shortly after he scored again to put his club ahead. With a minute and one half remaining a pony goal put Wilmington back in the game at 8-8. Seconds before the final whistle Phillips broke through to drive in the winning goal, his seventh in the game.

CCC of Detroit Noses Out Brandywine to Win National Open 9-8

Jack Cartusciello

In one of the most thrilling polo games ever seen at the Oak Brook Polo Club since its origin, the CCC Polo Club defeated Brandywine 9 to 8.

Billy Mayer came up from his No. 4 position to open the scoring for Brandywine. Dr. Billy Linfoot matched this with a score for CCC.

Both teams put up a stiff defensive game in the second chukker as Bill and Harold Barry closed the goal for CCC and Clarence "Buddy" Combs and Billy Mayer defended for Brandywine. As the tension mounted, a crowd of five thousand cheering spectators waited.

Things began happening in the third chukker as Billy Linfoot scored for CCC. This was short lived as Ray Harrington took matters into his own hands and scored two for Brandywine. Harold Barry came back to split the goal for CCC to tie the score at half time.

It was a fiery Brandywine team that took the field in the fourth chukker as Dr. Raworth Williams scored on a pass play from Dr. Buddy Combs. Ray Harrington again took the spotlight and came thru with expert mallet work and superb horsemanship to score three goals and give Brandywine a three goal lead. Billy Mayer, playing one of the best games of his polo career, kept CCC away from the Brandywine goal.

The tables turned in the fifth chukker as the Barry brothers, Harold and Bill, with noble assistance by Dr. Billy Linfoot, came back with a strong offense and three goals, one by Captain Don Beveridge, Billy Linfoot and Harold Barry. The Barry brothers held Brandywine scoreless.

Dr. Raworth Williams, one of the country's few remaining left handed polo players, opened the sixth chukker with a score for Brandywine and it looked like Brandywine was on to victory, but again the Barry brothers and Dr. Billy Linfoot decided to change matters as they each scored one to make up the deficit and go on to win their second consecutive National Open Polo Championship.

HORSE SHOWS

The H. D. Paxsons walked off with the lion's share of the championships, amid the torrents of rain that sent exhibitors and spectators scurrying for cover. Their personable Chappaqua, with Mrs. Paxson and Allen King alternately at the helm, was pinned working champion over Patty Worthington's consistent Lady Luck. Their good looking Flint Hill was awarded the green championship, thus retiring the challenge trophy which he won last year and Chappaqua the year before. After a tie for reserve with Margaret McGinn's Samburan was decided on the basis of conformation, the Paxson's Night Tourist added another tricolor ribbon to the growing collection.

Competition was really tough on children's day with quite a few out-of-towners giving the local element a run for its money. However, in the pony division, the local combination of George Wanner Jr. and his lovely fencing Covert Bay had little trouble walking off with the tricolor. The very efficient rider, Christy West, piloted her dependable Mousie to reserve.

Joannah Hall's quiet Mini Maid was children's working champion, with the reserve going to that nice young horse Petrinco, ridden by his young owner, Averyl Craven (who came back to ride that afternoon after a nasty spill earlier), and Herbert Snyder.

In the Maclay, the judges had the four top riders change horses, something not done often enough in horsemanship classes. After a difficult rideoff, Syd Gadd was awarded his "passport" to the Garden, with second going to our local equitation queen, Margaret McGinn.

"...just the same as

—W. A. Davidson, Mgr., Belair Farm, Bowie, Md.

"We have fed Purina Omolene to all of our Thoroughbred weanlings for the last 15 years," says W. A. Davidson, manager of Belair Farm, Bowie, Maryland. "We believe it helps develop good race horses."

"The foals are dropped in Kentucky and shipped here as weanlings. We raise them until they are ready for training stables."

Purina deeply appreciates these kind words from the manager of the great Belair Farm, where the famous Nashua and so many other famed Thoroughbreds were raised. We suggest that you, too, try Purina Omolene ... available at Purina Dealers everywhere.

Holland

In spite of the fact that the Ohio State Fair horse show is held on the same week-end and draws a number of entries from around the southern part of Michigan the Holland Horse Show had a well rounded show.

Mrs. Gerald Helder had a field day with her two mounts Panic and Ginoky.

All of the hunter classes at this show are sent out over the picturesque outside courses at the Pine Creek Stable grounds as it is the committee's feeling that it is a truer test of the ability of the horse.

Mr. P. T. Cheff and Tilford had a rough time shaking off a few close competitors for the jumper championship, but the veteran bay managed to win two blues and placed in the stake to give him the tri-color.

one of them. Her style of jumping — taking off and landing on all four feet — certainly requires a proficient jock like twelve-year-old Bonnie to stick with her.

Rachel Ann Martin's Billie Boy won the coveted Helene Liversidge Memorial Ladies' Hunter Trophy with one of the many excellent rounds he put in during the day.

Everyone was pleased to see Patty Worthington win the Medal and thus qualify for the Garden before her college

Metamora

Memo for future committee: Don't put a local show up against a national event. Actually, the Hunter-Breeder Show at Metamora this year was one of the best in competition, but crowding the U. S. E. T. Three Day Event in the same country on the same week-end did divert the spectator interest. As Alice in Wonderland said, "There was too much of a muddiness." Alas, the common garden variety of audience prefers the spectacular — and there was plenty to be seen, but unfortunately the crowds were thin for a really top show.

In spite of a strong defense by local horses, the Grand Champion went to a challenger from the Chagrin Valley, Mrs. Myron Merry's Jeraldum. Coming up from Working Hunter Champion to take the Grand Reserve was the gray Verity, which had been carrying his master, Irving Goldman, regularly in the field of the Metamora Hunt.

the sun set on the last day the largest point margin was run up by a good-looking and good-jumping brown horse owned by Cummins-Chicago Corp., ridden by Robert Burke. The reserve was Sky Bubble, owned by R. T. Erickson and ridden by Gordon Wright.

Jazz Session, the hunter champ, owned by Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Smith, and ridden by Mr. Smith, had an easy time of it in his division. Blanche Clarke, on Mrs. Charles Govern's Strideaway took the ladies' class and finished up reserve.

Raymond Burr came up from Pennsylvania and captured the tricolor in the working division with Kimberling, owned by Kimberton Hill Farm.

The green working hunters were headed all the way by a great going bay horse owned by W. J. Brewster and ridden by Myrna Felvey. Little Sombrero outpointed Raymond Burr on Kimberton Hill Farm's Kimberton Vike for the top honors.

The open jumpers were lighter than usual but still a large division. Sonny Brooks on Volco's Matador, the equestrian team's palomino, owned by Mr. and Mrs. N. Coates, jumped away with the top ribbon over Mrs. Hugh Barclay's deer-like Balko's Edge, well-ridden by Adolph Mogavero.

The green jumper division was dominated by Johnny Bell on a new face, Mokey Kid.

The junior division is always a tough one here on the Island. Mike Plumb was the champ, after winning the Miss Barbara Trophy. Fiona Field took the Medal, Sandy Rice, the Maclay. In this show two classes were offered which other shows should take note of — a class for those who had already qualified for the Medal Finals in the Garden and one for those qualified for the Maclay Finals. Both of these events were taken by Ronnie Catalano, the reserve champion.

Elizabeth Few rode her lovely Balthazar to the children's horse championship in a division with a great variety of classes.

Piping Rock

Perhaps, because it was its fiftieth anniversary, the fates smiled on Piping Rock and its new manager, Eric Aitkenbury, and provided three days of lovely weather, a distinct improvement over last year's rain.

It took some doing to finally get the green working hunter championship awarded. It was first announced that the winner was Kimberton Vike ridden by Raymond Burr and that Morton W. Smith's Guardsman had placed second. It was then discovered that one class hadn't been included and the correct total found the two horses tied. As a result the two horses were called to hack it off but no judges could be found, and the hack off had to be postponed till the following day. The reversal in the original results was pretty much of a forgone conclusion since Cappy Smith's Guardsman had won both of the hack classes.

The quality of the hunter performers was definitely in the working division. Blue ribbons were very hard to come by. Winner of two classes with brilliant rounds was Miss E. R. Sears Sidonia. Miss Joan Walsh took time home from schooling her father's race horses to ride the good jumping bay mare to the working hunter crown.

Piping Rock only served to point up the fact that "strip" horses are practically non-existent in the New York area. Were it not for Virginia group the division couldn't have been held. Little wonder that the tricolor went to Virginia through the efforts of Miss Peggy Augustus and her owner-ridden "Picture" horse Waiting Home. The lovely looking chestnut performed rather consistently to win five blues.

Just about the same number of green horses performed as did open conformation hunters. Miss Bosley repeated her tricolor performance of last year while Besiege was reserve.

Green jumpers were numerous and extremely good, but it took two young ladies to show the way to the rest of the riders. Top award went to Miss Betty Bosley's The Clown who attracted everyone's eye with his lovely manners and way of going. He also gave a good account of himself in the regular open classes.

Jumper courses were big and cut down the clean rounds considerably. One particular course that was used several times running and which included three fences in a row, the third of which was a spread caused quite a few to fall by the wayside.

Miss Sears had another tricolor added to her collection by the German-bred Diamant ridden by Gabor Foltenyi. It was the first major victory for the gray gelding since being bought for a reported $18,000. Diamant had the only clean round in the third day of Blitz with while Wendy Hanson of the latter was individual champion, a point ahead of Michael Plumb.

For the second time, Sara Ann Cavanagh claimed the junior horse title, this time with Cavcote Farm's Night Lily. Reserve was Miss Wendy Hanson's Bless Me.

Horsemanship champion was Michael Plumb, while Fiona Field claimed the reserve as well as her third medal.

fences from 4'6 to 5'. His stablemate, the great jumping former Olympic horse Ksar D'Esprit was also on his way to a clean round, only to collect faults for walking. As a result he placed sixth and just missed winning the Blitz three day event. Instead the award went to another former Olympic horse, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Coates' Volco's Paleface ridden by Sonny Brooks. Sonny also rode Ping Pong, Fairview Farms skewbald gelding to the reserve jumper award and his best show in quite a while.

The junior division probably offered more classes than any other show barring a strictly junior affair. Besides the horsemanship and junior horses there was a special division for maiden and novice riders which proved extremely popular, a three day event, including dressage and a junior olympic team division.

While the three day event showed an increase in entries over last year only three teams competed in the olympic events. Competition almost immediately resolved between Meadow Brook, (Sara Ann Cavanagh, Fiona Field, Michael Plumb) and Secor Farms, (Wendy Hanson, Gail Porter and Heidi Schmid). The former won the team championship

Quentin

Mr. and Mrs. Claude W. Owen's Sky's Light had the distinction of coppering not only the conformation hunter championship, but the working hunter reserve at the 21st annual Quentin Horse Show over the Labor Day week-end.

Putting on a smooth, steady, hard-working performance, the goodlooking gray mare amassed 24½ points for the conformation tri-color and 15 points for the working reserve, total of 39½,—a bristling bunch of points in any man's language. That expert couple, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Hallman, shared rides aboard Sky's Light.

Sun Imp, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lytle, was way out in front in the green working hunter division, totting up 17 points for the championship, compared to eight for the reserve, Jack Piersol's Country Boy.

The crowd gasped with admiration when they saw Mrs. Lytle manage her spirited mount, for she has only one good arm.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Haymond's Tourist Encore with Dave Kelley up, put in another of his consistent performances to capture the working hunter championship with 17 points.

It was "black and white and green all over" in the jumper division when the black gelding, Bedford, and the white gelding, Leprechaun, with Joe Green in the saddle for the stables of Irl A. Daffin were champion and reserve respectively.

Sturdy Bedford, kicking as usual, collected 20 points for the crown while Leprechaun earned ten. At that, he was just a half point ahead of Millarden Farms' five-year-old Gilt Edge, a Palomino purchased just before Pat Dixon went to Ireland in July. Returning just before the Quentin Show, Dixon had little time to school the horse, and was the most surprised man on the grounds when the little Palomino first won the Novice class and later the difficult In and Out. It was amazing to see Gilt Edge improve so visibly during the three-day show. At first he seemed to want to jump with his nose, then later appeared to understand what was asked of him, and then seemed to enjoy it.

Young Miss Kathy Williams, seven, of Millarden Farms who is being coached by Dixon made two faultless rounds aboard Black Pepper to win pony jumping after a jump-off.

Hunter equitation winners were Janet Hanshaw, under 12 years, and Mary Baker over 12 years. Peter Hull was ASHA medal winner, hunter seat. There was a full program for children, and it was good to see such an excellent crop of young riders assuring a comfortable for horse shows.

Spring Valley

The twenty-seventh annual Spring Valley Horse Show was held on one of the nicest days this year at the beautiful Spring Valley Show Grounds. These grounds are used only for a few shows each year and the permanent fences are kept in perfect condition for the events.

Even with permanent fences, it is possible for a variety of courses as there are obstacles both inside and outside the ring and crossing in the center. This makes the classes more interesting for both the exhibitors and the spectators who are mostly hunt members.

Miss Ann Voorhees was tops in horsemanship in the show. She gained her second leg on the "Wrist Watch" Trophy prior to winning the championship. After all of the junior classes were held, Miss Gail Savage's Cliff's Girl and Miss Betsy Ann Millman's Jingles were tied for the tri-color. In the hack-off, the judges gave the nod to Cliff's Girl.

One of the most popular decisions of the show was in the family class when the McNamara family captured the blue. Mrs. John McNamara, Denise, Jack, Carol, and Michael all rode in perfect for-

COMPARISON WILL SHOW YOU WHY HOMOGENIZED GAINES MEAL IS AMERICA'S LEADING BRAND AMONG BREEDERS!

Right away you can see that, unlike most other meals, Homogenized Gaines is made up entirely of clean, wholesome granules. Each granule has its full share of every ingredient and every food essential. In this way, uniform nourishment is guaranteed! But that's not the only advantage of this Homogenized Meal. It absorbs liquid quickly, and for the easiest feeding of all, it can also be fed dry.

Moist or dry, this meal has a taste and texture dogs really go for, saves you time and trouble. It's a meal rich in meat protein and nourishing meat fats . . . a meal that goes further and is better assimilated. Try it! After feeding it for one month—or one week—we think you'll find that you, too, prefer it to any dog food of any type.

Most other dog meals

are made up of loosely

mixed particles of many sizes—from cereal flakes

to dusty powders. Ingredi-

Champion Dog Hound

Dear Sir:

It was very nice of you to write me on Sept. 2nd with congratulations upon our championship win with South Herefordshire Merchant '52 at the West England show. We are naturally very pleased about it. Merchant had never been shown before and it was very gratifying when one of our best judges, the Duke of Beaufort, and with him Lancelot Smith, put him first in the Stallion Hound class, thus beating Heythrop Harper '53, this year's Peterborough Champion. Merchant was also made Champion Dog Hound.

We knew he was good but one never knows how good a hound is until he meets other company. He has a wonder-this rather rougher country and therefore suited to American conditions.

Merchant's puppies, which are now out at walk, are very promising.

The Master of the Millbrook, Fred Bontecou, when staying and hunting with us last March, may remember that he saw Merchant and liked him very much.

So much for showing — now let's get down to the work of this new season and catch foxes.

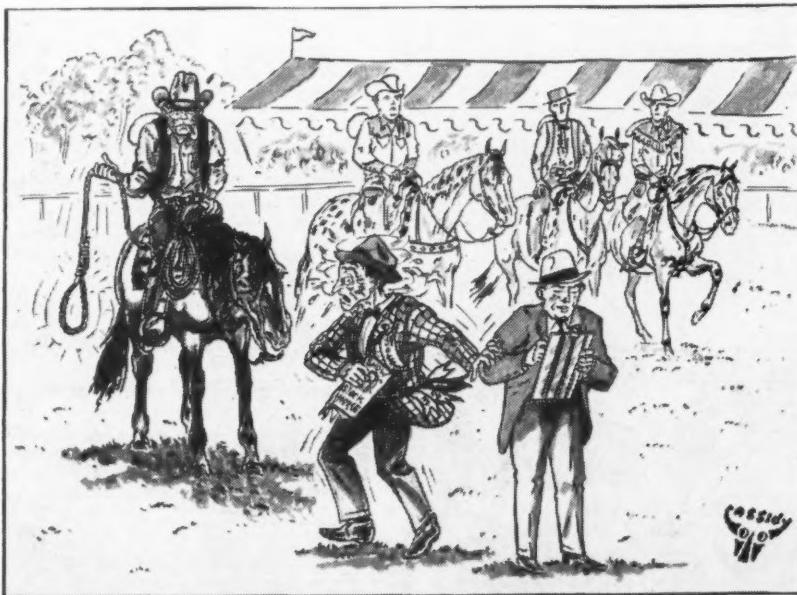

Yours sincerely,
Will Ashby

Hunt Staff Announced

Gentlemen:

The Beaufort Hunt takes pleasure in announcing the appointment of the folful neck and shoulders, has depth and is good across the loin. He is full of quality, well balanced, and beautifully muscled up. To criticize him, I would say he could be a little more masculine in the head, and his hocks are rather "behind him". On balance I would say a good example of the present day English foxhound.

More important still, he is a very good hunting hound, not flashy or spasmodically brilliant, but a good sound reliable hound with a good tongue, will go all day, good to mark to ground, and to break up his fox. His sire, the Duke of Beaufort's Remus '47, was himself a Peterborough champion, is a Sire of champions, and a very hard hunting hound. His dam, Marion '49, was also a good hunter and at the same time a prize winner at Peterborough, West of England, etc.

We have two of his full sisters, and a half sister (out of the same dam by Merchant's brother, Four Burrow Remnant '47), all good hunting hounds in this rather poor scenting, well wooded country, where hounds must have good tongues, and frequently work almost entirely on their own, at the same time requiring drive and speed to kill their fox.

This is the type of English hound that I have referred to before, bred to hunt lowing to serve on the Hunt Staff for the coming season:

B. R. Hoppe, Master of Foxhounds; Dr. Rife Gingrich, Field Master; Dr. Geo. N. Wade, Jr., Honorary Whip; Vance C. Coover, Honorary Whip; Fred B. Dapp, Jr., Honorary Whip; and David Hoffman, Kennelman.

Very truly yours,
Fred B. Dapp, Jr., Secty.

registered Poona Bassets owned by Molly, Adele and Kent Leavitt of Millbrook, N. Y. where they have been graciously allowed to compete for scent and running space with the Millbrook Fox Hounds, the Sandanona Beagles and the Junior Drag Hounds. The Prize for the greatest number of points won in the show, reserve champion ribbons for both dog and bitch hounds, firsts in unentered bitches and stallion dog with two of get all went to The Tewksbury Foot Bassets which, under the joint mastership of Haliburton Fales II and J. S. Jones, inhabit that portion of the Essex Fox Hounds Country hunted for so many years by the Vernon Somerset Beagles.

Their Daffodil, Domino and Dimity were excellent examples of rugged working hounds fully capable of holding their own on the bench. Domino was imported from England and presented to the Tewksbury by Mr. William Brainerd who judged the American Fox Hounds at this same show while Mrs. Brainerd, a former Basset owner, represented the family in the Basset department. The other registered pack of Bassets was the Sky Castle, John W. Streeter, Master, of Chester Springs, Pennsylvania. It is hoped that next year Mr. Alfred Bissel will bring his Stockford Bassets from Wilmington so that all registered packs in the country can be represented at the Bryn Mawr Show. — K. L.

lengths. Flaw, stablemate of Pine Shot, ran over tired horses in the stretch to finish third, while Kingale was fourth, after a serious bobble down the far side just as he was starting to move up.

With the $50,000 Temple Gwathmey closing as this is being written, a strong rumor has been whispered that Farfatch, the champion French steeple-chaser, may be sent over here for the race. Winner of several outstanding French infield classics, Farfatch was the best four-year-old of his year, and now as a five-year-old, may well be classed as the best steeplechaser in Europe today.

Editor's Note: This portion of steeple-chasing arrived too late to be included in the issue for which it was written, that of September 30th.

While the Broad Hollow Steeplechase Handicap drew but four starters on Thursday, Sept. 22nd, it developed into one of the best 'chases of the season to date. Headed by the high weighted Shipboard, whose victories in the Corinthian, Meadow Brook and Saratoga Steeplechase Handicaps, have earned him top honors for jumper of the year thus far, the field also included Neji, winner of The International, Rythminhim a good Saratoga development, and Bavaria, which has won two maiden stakes and the Hitchcock.

With all four confirmed stretch runners, the question of pace was an interesting one, and after a good start, Bavaria went to the top, closely followed by Rythminhim, with Neji and Shipboard a close up third and fourth. Around the first turn, Bavaria led by just a little more than daylight, and this was the order of the running for the next half a dozen jumps, with the Brookmeade jumper setting a modest pace, under his light impost of 136 lbs., and Scottie Schulhofer in the saddle.

Down the far side the last time, Albert Foot moved with Shipboard, and despite his burden of 158 lbs., this son of Battleship responded quickly to range up on even terms with Bavaria and Rythminhim. Over the next two jumps and approaching the turn, the trio raced on almost equal terms, with Rythminhim, in the middle, losing his position as Bavaria and Shipboard raced for the turn. Adams on Neji, with 157 lbs. only 1 less than Shipboard, chose to play a waiting game and did not move when Shipboard did; a tactic which well may have cost him the race. Curving into the homestretch Shipboard continued in front, but Bavaria clung on with determination, in fact was second and still very much in it until he hit the Widener Chute. Meanwhile Foot on Shipboard seemed to sense he had Bavaria beaten and eased his mount slightly, but only for a moment, for Rythminhim started to gain again, while Neji responded to Adams' whip to close with a dangerous rush. From the odds board to the wire, for just a moment or two, it appeared that Neji might catch Shipboard, but Foot roused his mount in time to cross under the wire with two lengths to spare, over Neji, while another length and a half back Rythminhim took show honors just half a length in front of the tired Bavaria.

Despite a rather modest pace for about a turn of the course, Shipboard's time was 3:46 $\frac{3}{5}$, some seven seconds off the course mark, but the time belied the last half mile of the race, when both riders and horses "poured it on" flying

Nancy Sweet-Escott's Sirpop (#4) briefly established the early running in the Wimberding Memorial Cup at the Essex Fox Hounds Race Meeting, Far Hills, N. J., but Mrs. M. G. their fences in a manner that could have meant victory or defeat for the smallest error in fencing.

The Broad Hollow was a true run race, and an exciting one from flagfall to finish. None of the four made a mistake in jumping worthwhile talking about, although Shipboard did get in deep at the final jump. Bavaria, from the Brookmeade Stable, figuratively a sophomore in this company, ran an excellent race on the front end, and was right there with the best, while the same may be said for Rythminhim, which under 145 lbs., showed an excellent effort.

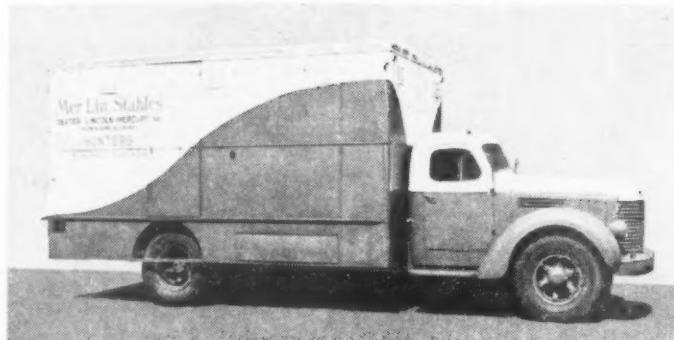

So far as Shipboard and Neji are concerned, the latter, away from the races since June, may have needed this race, and might have been closer under different riding tactics, but Montpelier's Shipboard, which narrowly missed honors of the year in 1954, won and duplicated his performance of 1954, when as a four-year-old, he carried 154 lbs., to the wire "fastest" in the Broad Hollow. As has been mentioned in this column before, Shipboard bears a resemblance to his sire Battleship, and has the head and shoulders of his grandsire, Man o' War. If trainer Ray Woolfe can keep him in his present fettle, the Broad Hollow, may only be the first jewel of Steeplechasing's "triple crown" for Mrs. Marion Scott's home-bred.

In the week under review, Aqueduct claimed two of the six racing days, and on one of these, Monday, the 19th, Alvin Untermyer's Morpheus scored a nose victory in a horse and rider duel, in which Dooley Adams on the winner and Scottie Riles on King Gavin gave a splendid performance of finished riding skill. On equal terms at the wire, the camera gave the decision to the Adams trained and ridden mount under the inflexible racing rule which says that the Judges must decide by the position of the nose at the finish, and when two horses on equal terms hit the wire, if they are not in stride, one head will be up, while the other is down. In this race, a mile and three quarters test over hurdles, saw Best Gift in front in the early stages, with the eventual winner always close, but seemingly beaten in the latter part when Riles got to the top with King Gavin on the far turn, but Morpheus came again thru the stretch to snatch victory in the closing stride. It was four lengths back to *Irish Pageant, a winner in this same kind of company a week previously, but under a higher impost in this race by virtue of that victory. Another four lengths away, Martingle, which placed behind *Irish Pageant in his previous effort, and a slight favorite in this race, came around horses in the closing stages, but then lacked a convincing drive in the stretch run.

Belmont opened on Wednesday and the Sea Legs Purse drew a field of ten jumpers over brush, in itself a rather noteworthy item at this time of the year, and it resulted in a mild surprise when Morris Dixon's Pine Shot, a maiden over the bigger obstacles, and beaten by a maiden, Fox Blow at Fair Hill four days previously, turned back such seasoned campaigners as Billing Bear, Oneida, Conflict and others including March-

Uncle Joe, Oneida and Billing Bear on the outside of these. Jimmy Murphy on the latter, making a strong bid at the time, lagged in, while right behind him, Uncle Joe took off and landed way off stride, not bothered by Billing Bear according to the rules, but quite probably unsettled in landing. Meanwhile, Eddie Deveau on Pine Shot on the inside had clear sailing and went on to score cleanly by two and a half lengths. Billing Bear, the runner-up was a neck in front of Oneida, while ten lengths back, Conflict hobbled home in fourth position. The Stewards took time out after the finish to go over the film but decided that Billing Bear had not interfered with Uncle Joe and permitted the result to east the favorite, and winner of many races over hurdles and brush in his career. Right from the drop of the flag, Mrs. T. A. Randolph's Uncle Joe, a good hunt meeting winner in 1953 and 1954, went out to set the pace, with the eventual winner either on his heels or in front for most of the way. By the time the field had completed a turn of the course, the race boiled down to Uncle Joe, Pine Shot, Conflict and *Archery 2nd, in that order, while Billing Bear and Marcheast were still in it some lengths away. Around the final turn, *Archery 2nd "ran out of gas" while Marcheast would not or could not extend himself. Into the stretch and approaching the final fence, it was now, four horses, almost abreast, Pine Shot,

Another close finish during the week was on Friday, when Stephen C. Clark's three-year-old Arrius took the measure of his age in a mile and a half hurdle race for horses which had never won $1,000. Under Kennie Field, the Clark jumper scored at the direct expense of Marsh Bird, which while a three-year-old too, has had much more experience. Marsh Bird gained a narrow lead from Navy Fighter midway down the far side, and in a tight finish around the final turn and to the last hurdle, continued in front. At this point, a bobble eliminated Navy Fighter, a big chestnut Montpelier-bred, while Ferral on Basil Bee, came fast on the outside to join Arrius

Among his other accomplishments is the 1½ miles Hollywood Gold Cup in a 3 season racing career which netted him nearly $200,000.

NEW STALLION FOR PENNSYLVANIA

A valuable new addition to the ranks of Pennsylvania stallions is the young horse Roman Tread, by Roman-Stepwisely, by Wise Counsellor. Standing at Gen. & Mrs. C. B. Lyman's Maui Meadows Farm at West Chester, Roman Tread is owned in partnership with Mrs. duPont Scott. Bred by Coldstream Stud, Roman Tread came into the ownership of Henry Knight with the latter's purchase of Coldstream Farm. At the 1952 Saratoga Sales he was the top priced colt sold on Knight's Night going to Mrs. Scott for $32,000. At 3 he won races and placed in stakes.

Roman Tread is a half-brother to the stakes winner Bolero and County Clare. His dam, Stepwisely, dam of seven winners including the aforementioned stake horses, is a half-sister to Quickly, the dam of Count Fleet. Stepwisely, who was retained by E. E. Dale Shaffer when he sold Coldstream Farm, has been purchased with the rest of Mr. Shaffer's mares by Mrs. E. S. Moore, who is transferring them to her Circle M. Farm in Lexington.

GARDEN STATE SALE

The 3-day Garden State Sale of yearlings by Fasig-Tipton, which literally started off with a bang when Hip No. 2-D "exploded" over Auctioneer Humphrey Finney and 3 other unfortunate persons, ended on a strong note with 219 head being sold for $484,600—averaging $2,212.

This fractions yearling a son of Case Ace—War Plumage, by On Watch from the consignment of James Cox Brady and the Estate of Howard Wells, went for the top dollar of the entire sale when Hugh Fontaine topped the bidding at $23,000.

Larry MacPhail reversing his usual role of consignor paid the next high dollar of the sale when he gave $14,000 for Harwood Stable's bay colt by Hill Prince out of the Hyperion mare *Hyperionetta.

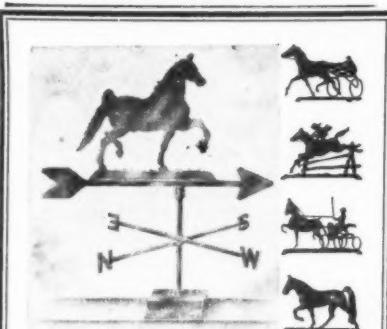

Miss Anna Bockius' Lagrimas, a chestnut son of the young stallion Loser Weeper—Teaneck Madcap, by Head Play, went to Mrs. Milton Erlanger on her "nod" of $13,000.

A Menu Card Design By A Royal Academician

(Editor's Note)—Reprinted from the March 24, 1928 issue of The Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News (now Sport & Country) in which the original cartoon appeared.

"Where are the shire packs, rejoicing in their exclusiveness, who can show a menu card design for their farmers' dinner drawn by a Royal Academician? Echo answers: Where? But such is the distinction to be enjoyed by the Essex and Suffolk, when the farmers of the Essex side of the Hunt shortly foregather for their dinner in Colchester. The design in question, which is reproduced here, is the contribution made by Mr. A. J. Munnings, the greatest living painter of the horse to the gaiety of nations on that evening—which, incidentally, never lacks heartiness and good humour. Mr. Munnings' association with the Essex and Suffolk arises chiefly from his country home being situated within the Hunt borders. He himself though too busy to do so regularly, hunts with the pack on occasions, and Mrs. Munnings, the painter's wife, a most accomplished horsewoman, is a frequent follower. Mrs. Munnings is, indeed, one of those thoroughgoing hunting people whose fancy, when fox-hunting ceases, at once lightly turns to thoughts of stag-hunting—with the Devon and Somerset. In addition, this brilliant lady rider finds time to appear, now and then, in the show-ring."

TROPHIES

If a poll were ever taken to determine which Virginia show had the best trophies, the vote would be cast unanimously in favor of the McLean Horse Show. The selection of silver showed a great deal of thought and all the exhibitors were remarking how delightful it was not to receive the usual plates and bowls. Instead there were bread trays, candlestick holder, highball glasses and a beautiful gravy boat. None of these were for championships, as might be expected, or for similar high awards. They were for hack classes or pony and junior hunters. All were lovely and original and left more than one person wondering why other shows couldn't use the same ingenuity in choosing their trophies. — T. L. B.
